GOOD YARN ANYHOW

R. M. Brown a South Carolina Congressman, had a good setter dog, but too many birds were his death. Brown said it happened like this: The dog was hot on the scene of a covey of quail when suddenly he was confused by the shadows of circling buzzards. The dog set his eyes on the slowly moving squadron, then went into a whirl, cracked his neck and fell dead.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S OPENING

Speeches, Band Concerts and Vaudeville Will Feature New Building's Housewarming

Opening ceremonies for Rockland's new Community Building will be held Friday night in the main auditorium. A band concert by the widely known WPA band will precede the ceremonies. A cordial invitation is extended to all citizens to be present, the concert starting shortly after 7 o'clock and winding up with patriotic airs prior to the opening remarks.

James E. Connellan is in full charge of the preliminary arrangements and will preside at the meeting. Among the speakers will be Congressman Moran, State WPA Administrator Albert Abrahamson, Deputy Administrator John C. Fitzgerald, Chief Engineer William Crowell, District WPA Director R. Wyman Foster, Mayor Leforest A. Thurston and others.

The entertainment features will be provided by the WPA vaudeville troupe which has won an enviable name over the State. The vaudeville will follow the several speakers running for about one and one-half hours. All speeches will be limited in length.

This opening ceremony is under auspices of the Works Progress Administration of Maine and will serve as an informal housewarming for the new structure. The big building is by no means completed, but the auditorium and foyer will be in practically final form by Friday night. No equipment of any sort is in the building as yet, and for the opening ceremonies borrowed chairs from various local sources will augment the 800 permanent bleacher seats.

Courtesy or subscription tickets, so-called to the opening night entertainment are available from all members of the general committee for equipping the building, also at Chisholm's, Willis Ayer, E. C. Moran & Co., Carver's, McCarty's Drug Store, The Thorndike and Hotel Rockland.

GREENLAW IS NAMED

Failing With Dwinall, Brann Appoints Augusta Man To the Liquor Commission

Instead of renominating Zelma M. Dwinall (R) of Camden, who was rejected a week ago by the all-Republican Executive Council, Gov. Brann Saturday appointed Brigadier General Albert Greenlaw of Augusta to the Maine State Liquor Commission. The appointment of Dwinall, former Maine legislator and present judge of the Rockland Municipal Court, was one of the Governor's several nominations rejected a week ago by the councilors as they issued an ultimatum, they would confirm no more of the Chief Executive's appointments of "consequence."

Brann's nomination of Greenlaw may be presented to the Council for confirmation or rejection seven days after it has been posted by the Governor.

Greenlaw, who was Brann's second choice for the Liquor Commission position following the Council's action, resigned a few weeks ago as supervisor of old age assistance in Maine under Health and Welfare Commissioner George W. Leadbetter. For several years Greenlaw was a member of the State Public Utilities Commission, but when his term expired under Brann's regime, he was not appointed. He became a candidate a few years ago for the Republican nomination for governor, but withdrew from the contest before the primaries.

When he submitted his resignation to Gov. Brann as supervisor of old age assistance he announced he had been offered another position, but declined to disclose the source of the offer.

F. W. CARLTON DEAD

"Father" of Kennebec Bridge Victim of An Automobile Collision

Frank W. Carlton, 77, "father" of the $3,000,000 Kennebec bridge which bears his name, died Saturday—an automobile accident victim. Carlton, twice a gubernatorial aspirant, drove his sedan into a parked car on the Woolwich-Wiscasset road. Flung against the steering wheel, he received head and chest injuries which caused almost instant death. State Trooper Harry L. Thompson said that Paul Holmsen, Bath, owner of the parked machine, was blameless.

A contractor professionally, Carlton had been active in state politics nearly 15 years. He served as a State Senator in the legislatures of 1923, 1925, and 1929, and in 1933-34 as an executive councillor.

Carlton made an almost single-handed fight for the legislation that made construction of the Bath-Woolwich bridge possible. He also was a leader of the forces favoring power export during his last State Senate term. The measure was killed by popular referendum.

In 1932 and again in 1934 Carlton was a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Each time he was defeated. A break with the successful nominee in 1934, Alfred K. Ames of Machias, caused Carlton to give his support to Democratic Governor Louis J. Brann, who was re-elected, votes. In the last state campaign, defeating Ames by more than 40,000 Carlton supported Brann in his unsuccessful quest of a U. S. Senate seat.

A WARREN DROWNING

Eddie Lampinen Broke Thru the Thin Ice On North Pond

The body of Eddie Lampinen, 21, who was drowned Sunday night while skating alone, was recovered from North Pond, Warren, at 8 o'clock Monday morning in 11 feet of water by Waino Lehto, 35. Skate tracks leading from the Lehto wharf, shoes near the landing and cap and pocketbook on the ice 200 yards distant led to the discovery of the body.

Young Lampinen had complained of being sleepy from reading and had left home Sunday afternoon, presumably for a walk. Ice on the pond ranged from one-half to four inches in thickness, that where he went through being just one-half inch in depth, the location being at the rear of the Lampinen home and near brook inlet.

Mr. Lehto in recovery of the body, used pole and hook and went over the surface of the ice carefully on a ladder.

The youth, a graduate of Warren High School, was employed by the Union Co-operative Trading Corp. dealers in grain. He leaves besides his father, one brother, Eino; and five sisters, Gertrude, Helen, Aili, Julia and Jennie.

Medical Examiner H. J. Weisman was called. Investigators were State Patrolmen Ray Foley, Henry Roper, Stanley Poland and Deputies Harry Phillips of Rockland and Ernest Gray of Thomaston.

CHRISTMAS

Long, long ago at Bethlehem,
From out the skies there came a voice;
That heralded to shepherds there,
The Christ-child born, let men rejoice.

Angelic hosts on that glad day,
Looked down upon a sin-cursed earth;
And with their songs of joy and hope,
Proclaimed good news—a Saviour's birth.

Glory to God! The anthem rang,
Good will to men, and on earth peace;
Man's destiny is Brotherhood,
And war outlawed shall ever cease.

Angels once more this Christmas tide,
Look down upon the world of men;
Their songs are hushed, their voices stilled,
As nations arm for war again.

Born was the Christ that he might save,
And lift mankind to nobler things;
Now let us done with guns and bombs,
The Prince of Peace hail King of kings.

Then will the earth be filled with joy,
And choruses, and bands and drums;
And Church-bells ringing everywhere,
The Christ announce. He comes! He comes!

Christmas will be when hatreds end,
And men clasp hands in Friendship's sweet;
When thrones and empires bring their gifts,
And lay them down at Jesus' feet.

EARLY RAILROAD RECOLLECTIONS

Dudley M. Holman Is One of Few Survivors Who Traveled Over the Old Veazie

Quincy, Mass., Dec. 11

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

I have recently seen in the daily papers here about the hundredth anniversary of the day when a wooden-wheeler locomotive hauled a string of converted stage-coaches away from Bangor up to Old Town, 12 miles away, beginning the operation of New England's first passenger railroad.

The road was operated by the Bangor and Piscataquis Canal and Railroad Company, later becoming known as the "Old Veazie" or the Bangor Old Town and Milford Railroad.

The train ran over wooden rails capped with iron straps.

I presume I am one of the very few persons now living who ever traveled over that road, which was finally abandoned in 1869. As a little boy, not three years old, I was going to Old Town where my grandmother, Mrs. S. L. Hunt, lived, with my father and mother. The Old Veazie ran directly back of my grandmother's orchard and the old depot was at one end of the orchard. There were some soldiers who were returning from the Civil War and they sat in the seats ahead of us and played cards. They threw the cards on the floor as they left and I thought they were such pretty things, I picked them up but father, who was a Baptist minister, made me throw them away to my great disappointment as I could see no evil in such pretty cards with their Kings, Queens and Jacks. That was in 1865 or 1866, probably in 1865.

Later on, when the road was abandoned and two of the engines were left on a part of the deserted track back of my grandmother's house—one was the Gen. Veazie and the name of the other I cannot recall—my brothers and my cousins and I used to play around them and on them making believe we were firemen and engineers.

The European and North American Railroad was built about that time or perhaps a bit later, cutting diagonally across the main street in front of grandmother's house and taking just a corner off the church lot next door. A number of my relatives were in the railroad business and I had childish dreams of becoming a railroad man, perhaps an engineer and possibly a conductor, as these latter with their shining lanterns slung over their left arm as they passed through the cars punching the tickets of the passengers made me incline to the conductor idea. The locomotives at that time were wood burning with broad topped smokestacks covered with coarse wire to prevent too big sparks from flying out and setting fires in the woods which lined both sides of the track in those days.

As I recall, the early couplers were made of several pieces of heavy sole leather sewed together but these were soon superseded by the iron couplers and with big coupling pins when real cars supplanted the old converted stage-coaches. I recall seeing some of these couplers in grandmother's attic.

I sent to Payson Tucker, when he was head of the Maine Central railroad, a photograph of one of the earliest locomotives on the Maine Central line, which had taken over the European & North American railroad which ran from Bangor to Mattawamkeag.

What a contrast between those early trains on the Old Veazie railroad and the stream line train that now travels over 700 miles a day with air conditioned, vestibuleless cars, with buffet service, and to think that I have lived through these years of successive improvements.

When my father moved to Rockland from my birthplace, Balston Spa, N. Y., the only method of getting to Rockland was either by the Sanford line of steamers from Boston to Bangor, owned by Charles S. Sanford, or by stage from Augusta, the old Knox & Lincoln not having been built until some years later and it was being surveyed in 1867 or 1868 while I still lived in Rockland.

We moved (a minister's family was always on the move) to Ellsworth from Rockland and that could only be reached by stage from Bucksport or from Bangor, and on the Bangor route we changed horses at the Half-Way house and had dinner. This is now a part of the Club house at Lucerne in Maine.

I hope I may live another 25 years to see what further developments will be made in the transportation line. A journey that took all day from Boston to Old Town now is a matter of a couple of hours by airplane. And I have lived to see candles and whale oil lights succeeded by kerosene, gas and now electric lights; stage coaches, horses and carriages giving way to automobiles and I want to see what the future may bring forth.

WHEN THE LEGIONNAIRES TRY

There's Only One Result, and You Saw It Again On "Donation Day"

Three hundred Rockland families to whom Christmas joys come sparingly will be furnished a ray of sunshine in the form of well filled baskets of food for the holiday meals.

This is made possible through the annual effort of Winslow-Holbrook Post, A. L., which held its annual Donation Day at Strand Theatre Sunday. Theatre and pictures were furnished free, through the courtesy of Joseph Dondis, resident manager, and everybody enjoyed the three fine performances. The afternoon attendance was the largest for some years, as were the food and cash receipts.

To the casual onlooker it would seem as if everybody was present in the afternoon, but such was far from the case, as the evening crowds proved.

The donations accumulated rapidly and were as rapidly whisked away to the Masonic Temple building which was furnished free for that purpose, together with the heat. The lights were donated by the Central Maine Power Co. The baskets for the food were contributed by B. C. Perry. The trucks used in transporting the contributions from the theatre to Masonic Temple were furnished by George Jackson, W. Scammon, Central Maine Power Company, W. H. Glover Co., Charles McMahon, Gerald McPhee, House-Sherman, Inc., William Foster, Francis Havener, Camden & Rockland

Water Co., and two of the city trucks.

Winslow-Holbrook Post is very grateful to all of the above, as it is to the following firms which contributed various articles:

M. B. & C. O. Perry's Markets, A. & P. Tea Co., First National Stores, Walter Griffin, Ward Baking Co., Maine Baking Co., Rockland Produce Co., Rockland Wholesale Grocery Co., John Bird Co., Peysers, Inc., Underwood Packing Co., Ramsdell Packing Co., Armour & Co., Swift & Co., C. M. Rise Co., Black & Gay, Bird Canning Co., Blaisdell Coal Co., Rockland Coal Co., New York Bakery, Rockland Grain Co., Walker Feed & Grain Co., Clover Farm Store, Knight Bros., Jameson Market, Willow Street Market, Cargill Market, Oscar Duncan, Lester Herrick, Fred Knight Market, Britto's Market, Florence Molain, Glendenning's Market.

Legionnaires were on hand in large numbers, all ready to do their bit. The committee in charge of Donation Day was headed up by Donald L. Kelsey, whose previous experience in this line, and his natural capability for handling a task of that kind made him the right man in the right place.

Last night the Auxiliary to the American Legion furnished a free supper to the workers, and this afternoon at 1 o'clock will come the climax when the Legionnaires play Santa Claus, and distribute the well filled baskets.

Chalk up another fine deed for Winslow-Holbrook Post.

A STORY OF THE TEMPEST

As Told By the Gentleman In the Third Story Front—With Editorial Addenda

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

Old Jupiter Pluvius got his dates mixed last week and gave Rockland its Saturday night bath on Thursday evening. Most people remained indoors when Jupiter turned on the water, but a few unfortunate who were caught too far away from their customary shelters in time of stress, found the spectacle well worth while.

From an observation post in a third story window overlooking a section of Main street, it was just another rain-storm, well characterized in the words of the poet who wrote, "On all its little silver feet, the rain came running down the street."

Outside, however, it was a different matter for those little silver feet were exceedingly wet, and swept the sidewalks in a regular stampede that threatened to knock down the unwary pedestrian and kick his teeth out.

Those were the people who knew what was going on in Rockland, Thursday night, the pedestrians; lone street walkers who resembled animated baths under the multi-colored lights suspended over a Rockland Grand Canal.

Miniature Niagaras slid off in slanting sheets from awnings scattered along the street and bounced up from the bricks below in gleaming geysers of fiendish wetness, as impossible to dodge as the spray from passing automobiles which whirled around the corners pushing a bow wave like a battleship and lashed only the green lights and a wake to complete the illusion.

Along about 8.30 p. m. Old Man Jupiter made a date with Dame Nature and the two of them went off on a rampage that rattled windows and swung signs, blew over Christmas trees in front of the stores and made miserable the life of every alley cat in the neighborhood. It would have been all right if they hadn't gone away and left the water running—but they did.

Strand Theatre opened its doors and dumped a squad of unfortunates to a sidewalk that looked like a sluiceway. The rise in skirts was immediate and generous and it constituted the high spot of the evening's program.

Briefly told, it was a juicy evening and one pair of pant legs shrank at least two inches in a strip of four blocks. The owner later verified this estimate.

Maybe it's wisdom to keep in out of the rain but if a trip abroad on Thursday evening couldn't qualify as a mild adventure, I'm Joe Penner's duck.

Rockland, Dec. 12.
(If our alphabetical correspondent thinks that this storm was a joke—tinged with the tragedy of shrunken pantlegs and inundated alley cats—he should have had his abode in the house by the river instead of being safely ensconced in the third story of a building where the only suggestion of water is found in the warranty deed which conveyed the building to the present owners. The editor, going into the basement in the early evening to minister unto an anthracite epicure, found that the tide had already begun to invade his premises, and there was barely time to fix the furnace fire before the water had reached a prohibitive height. Two hours later several tons of coal, shovels, coal hods, an old kitchen range and several articles were floating about the cellar bottom in a state of confusion that completely outclassed the dampened skirts in front of Strand Theatre.—Ed.)

DEER ISLE BRIDGE

The Public Works Administration announced Saturday extension of the time for construction of the Deer Isle bridge in Maine was made conditional upon action by the State Legislature before Feb. 1, to provide additional funds if the cost of the bridge is found to exceed $700,000.

Approval of the extension by the PWA was announced at the office of Representative Brewster.

PWA officials said the bridge district would be required immediately to determine the entire cost of the structure. Although the date for starting construction was extended from Dec. 1, 1936, to next March 1, the PWA said the Legislature must act before Feb. 1 to provide financing for any excess funds found to be necessary. No bids had been received by the bridge district within the cost limit of $700,000 set in the original enabling act by the Maine Legislature.

Proponents of the bridge have said if it were possible to gain an extension that would not make winter work necessary, the structure would be completed for less than $700,000.

The extension provided the bridge is to be completed before July 1, 1938.

If I had my life to live again I would have made a rule to read some poetry and listen to some music at least once a week. The loss of these tastes is a loss of happiness.—Charles Darwin.

TODAY

This day I pray, God give me strength anew
To do the task I do not want to do.
To yield obedience, not asking why.
To love and own the truth and scorn the lie.
To look a cold world bravely in the face.
To cheer for those who pass me in the race.
To bear my burdens gaily, unafraid.
To lend a hand to those that need my aid.
To measure what I am by what I give.
God give me strength that I may rightly live.

TALK OF THE TOWN

What has become of that terrible weather E. B. Rideout said we were to have in December? Not that we want it.

Nancy, 3-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamlin, fell from the doorstep at her home Sunday, breaking two bones in her right arm.

The Thursday night meeting of the American Legion will take the form of a social evening, Turkey raffle, entertainment, and buffet lunch.

A nice Christmas gift would be a pair of earphones or ear-drums for the man who has served as cook the past 10 years at the City Farm. Call 117-W.

Cyrus W. Hills has moved from Caspar (Wyoming) to Cheyenne, where his address is 3512 Moore avenue. Mr. Hills is a former Rockland druggist.

Miss Ruth Cruise is the new box office girl at Strand Theatre, succeeding Miss Anne Povich, who is now employed by the Jordan-Marsh Co. in Boston; Miss Crouse is succeeded at Park Theatre by Miss Ruth Dondis.

V.F.W. Auxiliary will have a Christmas tree for children of members Monday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock. A bountiful supply of candy, nuts and fruit donated by the kind people of the city will be given.

Private services for Mrs. Jeannette Bates were held from her home 24 School street Sunday. Rev. J. Charles MacDonald attending. Services were held in the Church at Green, at 2 p. m. Rev. Mr. Johnson officiated. Interment in Greene.

A Christmas Cooking School will be conducted Thursday afternoon at the Universalist vestry by Carrie Williams Fowler under sponsorship of Central Maine Power Co. It will open at 2 o'clock, every body is invited and all food will be given away.

Mrs. Elise Allen Corner will entertain the pupils of her ballroom class tonight at a Christmas party and dance at her studio on Brewster street. Thursday at 3 o'clock a party will be held for the babies of the school and at 4 o'clock for all the rest of the classes and private pupils.

Dr. and Mrs. Neil A. Fogg, homeward bound from Freeport Saturday passed through Wiscasset shortly after the automobile accident which had caused the death of Frank W. Carlton. When they reached the toll house on the Kennebec Bridge they saw signs of excitement, and State Police were hurrying to the scene but the officials apparently did not know that the victim was the man whose efforts had caused the bridge to be built.

The pressure gauge in the Camden Central Fire Station tells Chief Alan Payson and his smiling crew that the water pressure is up to 112 pounds and the big Camden stand pipe is running over thanks to cleaning operations conducted on 14,000 feet of the big main on West street which increased the capacity better than 10 percent. A special device is placed in the pipe and cleans it like new as it is forced along by water pressure. When the progress of the cleaner became too slow Camden's American-La France pumping engine came into the picture with two powerful streams and did the necessary pushing in jig time.

WITH THE THEATRES

"A Woman Rebels" featuring Katharine Hepburn will be the Wednesday, feature at the Strand with the popular Herbert Marshall in the male lead. The Park Theatre attraction Wednesday will be "Legion of Terror," a dramatic expose of masked band activities. On Thursday comes Edmund Lowe and Elissa Landi in "Mad Holiday."—adv.

Henry O. Blood of 65 Tillson avenue died yesterday after a week's illness, aged 56 years. The funeral services will be held at the residence Thursday at 2 p. m.

The Southern Zone of the Maine Association of Optometrists Extension Program will be held at 391 Main street Thursday at 7:30 p. m., under the chairmanship of Bradford Burgess, 391 Main street.

W.C.T.U. will meet at Home for Aged Women Friday, Miss Ernestine Getchell, the hostess, and members of the Home as special guests. Devotions will be led by Mrs. C. A. Martaller. Following the business meeting an appropriate program for Christmas will be presented.

The Albert H. Newbert Association meets at Masonic Temple Friday night, and will have a Christmas tree with Mrs. Phoebe Howard and Mrs. Belle Frost in charge. Mrs. Gertrude Boody, Mrs. Katherine St. Clair and Mrs. Florence Philbrook are the housekeepers.

Sunday a car driven by Arthur Holmberg of St. George was in collision with Fred M. Blackington's car as the latter emerged from Water street. Both machines were damaged. In Municipal Court yesterday Holmberg was fined $25 and costs for reckless driving.

Travel stories are always popular, and especially so should be the lecture which Col. E. A. Robbins, publisher of the Camden Herald, is to deliver before the Baptist Men's League Thursday night. He will give some of the most interesting details of his recent world tour, illustrating that talk with motion pictures made by himself.

The Rockland City Band has elected George A. Law director, thus filling the vacancy caused by the death of H. E. Kirkpatrick. Other officers chosen were: Charles L. Robinson, as manager and Thomas J. Fleming as secretary and treasurer; Theodore Perry, Edward Hayes, George W. Blethen, Douglas Vinal, Aaron Clark and Thomas Fleming directors. Manager Robinson was given a vote of thanks for his successful labors of the past year. Under the skilled leadership of Mr. Law, one of Maine's best musicians, the Rockland City Band looks forward to another good season.

Lawrence Pike served as announcer at Station WHDH Saturday afternoon during the Kenneth Wilson organ recital and it would not be surprising to find the Rockland boy holding a regular position there in the near future. He also announced recently on the Bangor Station, WABI, which has lately increased its power 150 watts and which has greatly improved its plant by the addition of a new transmitter and modern steel tower.

The Rockland Kiwanis Club sat in open mouthed but pleased amazement last night when Capt. Brown of the Salvation Army reported that after having eaten 23 meals served free by the club, the group of underprivileged children had gained 64 pounds in weight. The Club met in the Army's mess hall and did its own catering with marked success. Two visiting Kiwanians and a guest lived their lives in grand style thanks to novelty piano numbers and rarely nimble tongues and wits. The speaker was John M. Richardson who discussed the Community Building project and the open forum that followed was an "on you toe" affair.

Rockland High Opens Court Season Thursday Night With Ballads

Bill's girls swing into line Thursday night when they play the Ballard Business College of Rockport at the High School gym. It is the first girls' basketball game of the season on the local surface, and will furnish the observers with an opportunity to see how much of a threat they will be in the Knox-Lincoln series this winter. The Rockland team's schedule follows:

Dec. 17—Ballard Business School at Rockland.
Jan. 8—Thomaston at Rockland.
Jan. 12—At Rockport.
Jan. 15—At Camden.
Jan. 19—Open.
Jan. 22—Lincoln Academy at Rockland.
Jan. 26—Belfast at Rockland.
Jan. 30—At Thomaston.
Feb. 2—Rockport at Rockland.
Feb. 5—Camden at Rockland.
Feb. 10—At Belfast.
Feb. 12—At Lincoln Academy.
Feb. 16—Open.
Feb. 19—Ballard Business School, Rockport.

MISS MINNIE C. SMITH

The community was shocked to learn of the sudden death of Miss Minnie C. Smith which occurred Dec. 4. She was born in Vinalhaven, Dec. 28, 1873, daughter of Leander B. and Sarah Frances (Ames) Smith. She was a graduate of the Vinalhaven High School and the Rockland Commercial College, later being employed as bookkeeper in Hyde Park, Mass., Fuller & Cobb and Snow Marine Co., Rockland, frequently substituting at the Loan & Building Association. She was a member of the Pratt Memorial Episcopal Church, Women's Foreign Missionary Society, Woman's Educational Club, Wawenock Club and Golden Rod Chapter, O.E.S.

The deceased was a woman of sterling qualities of a quiet and unselfish disposition, beloved and respected by all who knew her. She was an untiring worker giving without stint her time and strength until the last, though handicapped by failing health. No task was too great or the object too small to enlist her aid and she was never deaf to a plea for sympathy or assistance. Her goodness will be an inspiration to her friends.

She is survived by one brother Orrin F. Smith of this city.

Funeral services were held at the home, 37 Spring street, conducted by Rev. C. E. Brooks and were largely attended. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful, silent tributes of appreciation to a kind friend. The bearers were Capt. A. B. Norton, A. W. Gregory, H. C. Crandall and H. M. deRochemont.

WITH THE BOWLERS

Rockland's 10-man team came from behind the Star Alleys Friday night to win a 28-pin victory over the 10-man combination from Camden. Lots of century strings figured in this match, Chick Maynard leading the procession with his 125. He also had high total by a considerable margin. The score:

The Bath bowlers evidently considered it quite an honor to be defeated on the Star Alleys Thursday night. The Bath Times says:

"A five man bowling team from the Park Alleys invaded Rockland and fell by a margin of 31 pins before a Lime City quintet at the Star Alleys. A couple of Rocklandites by the name of Thomas and Carr who ran up three string totals of 323 and 321 respectively, spelled defeat for the Shipping City boys who had a creditable team total of 1434."

Uncle John Thomas must have furnished the visitors with a surprise for there are not many bowlers in the late 60's who can roll a three-string total of 323 offhand. The score:

	Rockland	Bath

An afternoon of relief sewing will be held Wednesday at 2 at the Congregational Church.

Although he succeeded in averting a threatened attack of pneumonia, the recovery of Alden Ulmer, Sr. is slow. He will be confined to the house for some days yet.

The S.U.V. Auxiliary holds a card party Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Mae Reed hostess. There will be the usual 6 o'clock supper and at the close of the business session a Christmas tree will provide entertainment.

Brotherhood Class and Goago Class of the First Baptist Church are indulging in friendly attendance contests under the respective leaderships of Frank H. Ingraham and Rev. J. Charles MacDonald. Each regular member in attendance counts one, a visitor counts three and a new member counts five. The standing, after two Sundays, is 59 for the Brotherhood class and 56 for the Goago boys.

Driving an automobile without license, and incidentally having that automobile kill a deer brought Wilfred Withee of Washington before Recorder Otis in Municipal Court. He was fined $50 in each case, and furnished bail in the sum of $400 after appealing.

Mission Circle of Universalist Church will meet tomorrow in the vestry at 2:30. This meeting was postponed from Dec. 9. Religious current events will be given by Mrs. Glover. The paper on St. Francis Assisi will be read by Mrs. Gladys Heistad. Theme of roll call "Giving."

The Christmas stocking should be brought to this meeting. Hostesses are Mrs. Etta Stoddard, Mrs. Lenora Cooper, Mrs. Minnie Copeland, Mrs. Delilah Cunningham, Mrs. Grace Daniels, Mrs. Ella Dyer and Miss Annie Ervine.

The monthly Red Cross baby clinic was held at the Red Cross office with Dr. C. B. Popplestone, the regular clinic physician in attendance. Diphtheria inoculations were given along with the regular clinic work.

Edwin Libby Relief Corps met Thursday night, supper being followed by a business period. Birthdays occurring in October and November were celebrated and plans made for the installation. The meeting Thursday, will feature a Christmas tree, each member to take a gift and dress in costume. There will be work on quilts in the afternoon and Mrs. Buelah Larrabee and Mrs. Ada Brewster, will act as a supper committee.

The scene shifts decidedly at the Lions meeting tomorrow—from the Community Building on Limerock street to the snow-covered fields of Alaska. The speaker tomorrow will be Dr. H. V. Tweedie, who will speak on the latter subject from the standpoint of one who has lived among the Alaskans. There's always a fascination about this territorial possession, and success has marked Dr. Tweedie's presentation of the subject.

An all day session and "planning meeting" marked the very successful meeting of the Rockland Farm Bureau. The presence of Miss Cobb, chairman of State home management and Miss Dunham home demonstration agent for this district, was a pleasing feature, this being the latter's first attendance here. A "square meal" was served to 27 persons at noon, and the important business meeting resulted in the following election for the coming year, chairman, Mattie Gardner, secretary, treasurer Ethel Connon, chairman of clothing project, Ruth Levenseller, chairman of food project, Eunice Morse, chairman of home management, Frances Farrand. The Farm Bureau is giving a Christmas tree for members and families and the immediate community next Monday night at Farm Bureau hall.

Nicholas R. Pellicane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pellicane of 139 Park street, a senior at Bates, was recently appointed student assistant in the department of Physical Education at the college, according to announcement from the office of the president. Mr. Pellicane is president of the Lawrence Chemical Society, a member of the Student Council, and advertising manager of the Student, Bates undergraduate paper.

WALDOBORO

Mrs. Fred Richardson and Mrs. Charles Walker of Malden, Mass., were in town recently.

Stuart Hemingway, Jr., and a group of fellow-students from Yale joined Mrs. Hemingway at Glenhurst to be present at the opening of the Waldo Theatre.

Mrs. P. E. Storer and Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey Lash were visitors Sunday in Portland, where Mr. Storer is a patient in the Maine General Hospital.

A Christmas pageant will be presented Sunday night in the Baptist Church by members of the Sunday School.

The Baptist Missionary Circle met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Maude Clark Gay. This was the program meeting and Mrs. Horace Taylor and Mrs. Gretchen Simmons were heard in instrumental and vocal duets and Mrs. Ralph Benner, Mrs. Henry Mason, Mrs. George Gentner and Miss Edna Young in readings. Mrs. S. H. Weston gave a monologue. Missionary activities were discussed and plans made for sending boxes of useful articles to various schools. Following the program each member received gifts from a Christmas tree. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Mason. Twenty were in attendance.

In spite of the severe storm, the opening of the Waldo Theatre proved a gala event. The house was packed at both evening performances. The attractive interior elicited a profusion of compliments and the sound machine identical with that in Radio City, came in for added appreciation and praise. The lobby was lined with baskets of flowers presented to the owner, Carroll T. Cooney.

DR. J. F. STARRETT

Death of Prominent Bangor Physician Who Was a Native of Warren

Dr. Joseph Franklin Starrett, prominent Bangor physician, died Friday at his home 85 Essex street, Bangor, following a brief illness. Possessing a fine personality, a man always interested in the affairs of the community, Dr. Starrett's untimely death comes as a great shock to a wide circle of friends in this section.

He was born in Warren, 66 years ago, son of Ellis A. and Sarah J. Starrett. He graduated from Bowdoin College and Medical school in 1898 after which he served his internship in the Maine General hospital in Portland and then did graduate work in New York.

In 1900 Dr. Starrett came to Bangor and opened an office and he has since then been continuously engaged in general practice. He continued in the work which he loved almost to the end having seen on last Saturday many patients. His pleasant, and sympathetic manner endeared him to his patients and during his 36 years in Bangor he built up a large practice.

Dr. Starrett was a member of St. Georges Lodge, F.A.M., of Warren; Mount Moriah, Royal Arch chapter; Bangor Council, R.S.M.; St. John's Commandery, Eastern Star lodge of Perfection; Palestine Council; Bangor Chapter of Rose Croix; Maine Consistory; and Anah Temple, Mystic Shrine, of Bangor. Long identified with the Masonic bodies, Dr. Starrett was a 32d degree Mason.

Dr. Starrett was also a member of the Tarratine Club, Condukeag Canoe and Country Club, the Penobscot County Medical association; Maine State Medical Association and the American Medical Association. In these organizations he held various offices and frequently represented the organizations as a delegate.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Grace M. Starrett, one daughter, Mrs. Stephen L. Matheson, of Plainfield, New Jersey; one son, Dr. Jay Ellis Starrett, of Stamford, Conn.; two grandchildren, Jean Starrett Matheson of Plainfield, N. J., and Robert Barton Starrett, of Stamford, Conn. One brother, Oscar E. Starrett of Warren also survives.—Bangor Daily News.

There was a very large attendance of relatives and friends at the funeral yesterday morning with Rev. A. M. Winsor, a close neighbor was the officiating clergyman. The floral tributes were both profuse and of exceeding beauty. The honorary bearers were, with one exception, Dr. Starrett's associates as physicians and surgeons and were: Dr. Luther S. Mason, Dr. Herbert F. Thompson, Dr. George B. Caulfield, Dr. James D. Clement, Dr. Charles H. Burgess and William M. Brown. The active bearers were: Belmont A. Smith, J. Waldo Barto, George I. Wescott, Frank H. Morse, L. P. Swett and William C. Wheeler. The remains were taken to Warren, the old home of the deceased for burial in the family lot.

"I Gained Every Bottle I Took"

says Mrs. A. J. Mankusky, 73 Walnut St., Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

"I was very nervous and lost all my pep. I didn't even feel like talking to anyone. My three children would make me so nervous that I didn't know what to do. Since taking your wonderful Vegetable Compound I am a new woman. My sister told me about it and I gained every bottle I took. I have a good appetite and sleep well. My husband says he is glad I am feeling so good and he hopes I continue taking it. I recommend it to every girl and woman who suffers as I did. I say, 'Try it once and you won't be without it'."

FROM
R-J-REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY
 MAKERS OF CAMEL CIGARETTES AND
 PRINCE ALBERT SMOKING TOBACCO

One full pound of mild, mellow Prince Albert, packed in the cheerful red tin and placed in an attractive gift package.

Prince Albert

It's easy to please all the pipe-smokers on your list. Just give them mellow, fragrant Prince Albert—the National Joy Smoke—the Prince of Pipe Tobaccos. "P. A." is the largest-selling smoking tobacco in the world—as mild and tasty a tobacco as ever delighted a man. Prince Albert will wish your friends and relatives the merriest Christmas ever.

A full pound of Prince Albert in a real glass humidifier that keeps the tobacco in perfect condition. Gift wrap.

Camels

There's no more acceptable gift in Santa's whole bag than a carton of Camel cigarettes. Here's the happy solution to your gift problems. Camels are sure to be appreciated. And enjoyed! With mild fine-tasting Camels, you keep in tune with the cheery spirit of Christmas. Enjoy Camels at mealtime for their aid to digestion. Camels set you right! They're made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

At your dealer's you'll find this Christmas package—the Camel carton—10 packs of "20's"—200 cigarettes.

Another Christmas special—4 boxes of Camels in "flat fifties"—wrapped in gay holiday dress. (right, above)

CAMDEN HILLS CAMP

Some Gossip Concerning the 1130th C. C. C., Via The Sagamore

Since the last issue of The Sagamore a number of new faces have appeared in camp.

Transferred to the 1130th Company from Lewiston's 133d Co., is Arthur Rackliff of South Thomaston. Rackliff joined the CCC Nov. 7, 1935 and came here Oct. 26.

L. E. M. George Dyer of Owl's Head signed on the last day of October. This is not his first "hitch" in the CCC, having been at the Greenville camp from April to October last year.

Still with us of the November 3 replacements are:

Bangor
 Gilbert DeVoe, Mt. Desert Ferry
 Amos L. Dow, Jr., Millinocket
 Alfred Healey, Linwood Jordan
 Linwood Jordan, Hancock
 Lucien Ouellette, Port Kent
 Augustus Sinclair, East Sullivan
 Lionel Vachon, Skowhegan

Coming two days later to Camden Hills were:

Edward Dudley, Oakland
 James Hall, Cumberland Center
 Richard Hamilton, Gorham
 Lewis Hudson, Hancock

Joseph Joyce, Kennebunkport
 Wallace Loehn, Epping, N. H.
 Leroy Markure, Presque Isle
 Robert Parker, Portland
 Charles Phippen, Mt. Desert Ferry
 John Pritchard, Portland
 Earl Rackliff, South Thomaston

Ernest Schmidt, Bucksport
 Gordon Smith, West Buxton
 Dwight Snow, Ashland
 Gifford White, Jonesport

Coffin, Cunningham and Curtis of Jonesport, Bucksport, and Belfast respectively and Frederick Barker of Bucksport have departed.

With such veterans as McCoy, Fitzmorris, Bither and Kelley the basketball prospects of the 1130th seem bright. Joyce, a former Coburn star and Taylor seem to be sure of making the team outstanding. The squad under the direction of Mr. Thurston is rounding into shape. Practice is held every Thursday at the local "Y". Among the others out for the team are Pelletier, Caccolof, Katon and Dow. Games will be arranged with the Jefferson, Ellsworth, Southwest Harbor, and Bar Harbor camps and teams in the local district.

With the finishing of the hockey rink a call for candidates will be posted. Those left from last year are Captain Katon, Pelletier, Burns, Leland and the defense star Darrell C. Pound.

Fall Tournaments

The pool finals were between Dolen and Kelley with Dolen as the champ by a score of 100-83. Rancourt and Senior Leader Smallidge were in the final bracket of the pine pong tournament but "Laurie" heard the call of the Southland and took his discharge leaving the championship to Smallidge by default—and had they played it was anybody's contest.

In the checker tournament Allan A. C. Mason was the victor.

Typewriting classes are held four nights a week. There are two half hour classes each week either Mondays and Wednesdays or Tuesdays and Thursdays. Those in the first class are Malesky, Joyce, Phippen and Dickey and in the second class are Bonnett, Errington, Philgren and Burns. All those interested in this class will leave their names with Mr. Thurston or Mr. Kelley.

A new course is being offered to all members who wish to become truck drivers—present truck drivers may enroll, either for the Army trucks and ambulance or for the D. I. trucks. The course consists of study of the Maine traffic laws and the E.C.W. and Army regulations relating to motor vehicle operation. There will also be practical training and tests in greasing and operating the trucks.

APPLETON

"The Man in the Moon"

The Dramatic Club will present Friday the three-act comedy drama, "The Man in the Moon." The members of the cast are all local people and have been diligently working to make this, their first presentation of the year, a success.

The leading feminine role is ably taken by Miss Ruth Moody, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Moody, Appleton Ridge. She is a graduate of Appleton High School and has attended Rockland Commercial College and also Gates Business College in Augusta. At present she is employed at Dr. I. P. Tuttle's of that town.

The male lead will be portrayed by Donald Hall, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hall. He is a graduate of Appleton High School and for the past two years has been a student of Iowa University.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gushee and Lawrence Whitney, as colored folks, guarantee an evening of merriment and all other parts are equally apt.

Specialties will be presented by local talent between the acts. Immediately following the play a dance will be held, music by a popular dance band.

Miss Enna Vinal spent the weekend in North Haven.

Sterry-Lane

The marriage of Miss Doris Lane, daughter of Mrs. Vesta M. Lane of this town, and Robert Sterry, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sterry of Portsmouth, N. H., took place Nov. 26 at the rectory of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Portsmouth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. J. J. Belluscia, the double ring service being used.

The bride was gown in blue chiffon velvet, with white brocade trimmings and matching accessories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Vera M. Cole was matron of honor and wore a blue taffeta gown with matching hat and corsage of pink tea roses. James Pay was best man.

An informal reception was held at the home of the groom's parents and was attended by relatives and friends of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. Sterry were recipients of many beautiful gifts.

The bride is a graduate of Cony High School of Augusta, and studied nursing at the Leonard Morse Hospital in Bangor.

Mrs. Ethel Eaton spent a few days in Bangor recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Emery Cole passed in Natick, Mass. The groom was graduated from Portsmouth High school and is serving apprenticeship at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

SUNSET

METHEBESIC CLUB

Papers Presented By Mrs. Mabel Rose and Mrs. Addie Small

Despite the inclement weather, the meeting of the Methesebic Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Nelson, with Mrs. Laura Maxcy as assisting hostess, had 32 members in attendance. The next meeting will be on Friday of this week at the Bok Home for Nurses. Contributions for distribution to children on Christmas will be received, each package to be well wrapped and marked plainly with age and sex of child for whom gift is intended. This Christmas observance is one of the worthy projects carried out by this club.

Three new members were admitted, Mrs. Louise Orberton, Mrs. Ida Dondis, and Mrs. Ethel Lovejoy.

Mrs. Mabel Rose presented a fascinating paper on "Castle Builders" in which vivid pictures of coral reefs, and other wonder growths of the seas were painted. Following this paper, Mrs. Blanche Morton, accompanied by Miss Edna M. Gregory, sang "Corals" by Trehearne, an exquisite modern song fitting perfectly into Mrs. Rose's paper. Mrs. Morton's presentation was sincere and understanding.

A very fine paper prepared by Mrs. Addie Small, "Rock Gardens of the Sea," was read by Mrs. Alice Karl, program chairman. Mrs. Small also told in an eloquent manner of the plant growths to be found in the depths of the sea. Many interesting and colorful pictures were passed as illustrations.

At the meeting of Friday afternoon Papers will be given by Mrs. Lenora Cooper, "Christmas at Sea," by Mrs. Alice Jameson "Guide Posts of the Sea," and "Standing Guard" by Mrs. Eva Heller. There will also be appropriate music.

At The High School

(By the Pupils)

At the Junior High social last Friday evening, this program was presented: solo and tap dance, "When A Lady Meets A Gentleman Down South," Betty Monroe; solo, "Organ-Grinder's Swing," Evelyn Gray; tap dance, Dorothy Tibbatts; solo, "Hey, What Did The Bluejays Say?" Margaret Havener; duet, "Let's Sing Again," Dorothy Stearns and Mary Anastasio; reading, "Under The Greenwood Tree," Mary Sammons; duet, "I'm An Old Cow-Hand," Ben Dowling and Harold Blackington; dance, Jennie and Lury Thompson; musical reading, "Talk, Talk, Talk!" Ruth Seabury; trio, "Red Sails In The Sunset," Dorothy Trask, Barbara Black, and Milton Roberts; assisted by Eileen Beach, Carol Hall, Pearl Smith, Bradford Ames, Charles Huntley, and Robert Kallio. The announcer was Martha Seavey. Mary Lamb was chairman of entertainment; Ruth Witham chairman of decorations, and Ruth Seabury was chairman of refreshments.

Two films were shown in Mr. Durrell's physics and general science classes Tuesday morning, "Plant Growth" and "Farther, Faster, and Safer"—a transportation film relating facts concerning the establishment of many speed records—records that were established after a better working knowledge of the mechanics of gases, liquids and solids had been obtained. Both films were very interesting and threw much light on the subject concerned.

Junior High rooms have been made very colorful with Christmas decorations this week, featuring borders, bells, wreaths, posters, tinsel, and Christmas trees. In Miss Brown's room, an attractive Holy City has been made on the wall, using cut-out figures.

Malzie Joy has been secretary to Principal Blaisdell this week.

The Senior High assembly this week was under the direction of the French Department and was an attempt to point out contributions to modern civilization which have been made by the French. The program consisted of the following topics: "Why France is Interesting to Us As Americans," Edward Hayes; "French Colonial Expansion in America," Marian Ludwick; "The Origin and Early History of France," Doris Borgerson; "The French and Religious Tolerance," Barbara Orff; "The French and Political Liberty," Meredith Dondis; "French Education," Veno Kangas; "French Contributions to Science," Gordon Richardson; "French Music," Dorothy Frost; two French folk songs, "Au Clair de La Lune," and "Aupres de Ma Blonde," sung by Nancy Snow, Mary Dodge, Dorothy Howard, Dorothy Frost, and Ruth Thomas;

"French Art," Malissa Bostick; "French Architecture," Margaret Rogers; "French Literature," Eleanor Look; French readings by Yvonne Gervais; "The Picturesqueness of French Provinces," Edward Hayes; French folk dance under the direction of Barbara Derry by Stella Young, Felice Perry, Agnes Johnson, Florence Johnson, Jean Clukey, Josephine Pellicane, Anna Pellicane, and Norma Havener; trumpet solo, "La Marseillaise," Marian Harvey. The songs and dances were accompanied by Dorothy Sherman at the piano. Prints were loaned by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Mrs. Jerome Burrows has been substituting for Mrs. Robinson this week.

The film "Plant Growth" was shown by Principal Blaisdell to the Kiwanis Club Monday evening as being a modern device in teaching procedures. Kent Stanley operated the movie machine.

Prof. Bogan's talk on hobbies was found very stimulating by several pupils who attended the Parent-Teacher meeting Monday evening. No one need be without a hobby for his leisure time when walking, even, is considered one.

The faculty basketball team is negotiating for a game with the Bangor High faculty to be played in Rockland either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. If the game materializes, it will be in the nature of a rubber game inasmuch as each team won a game in their two appearances last year. It is hoped that the infusion of young blood in the persons of Coaches Don Matheson and Howe Glover may serve to bolster up the senile veterans of last year's team.—Mr. Bowden.

Some people have all the luck—Colby College students are to have a dancing class of 50 boys and 50 girls, a delightful extra-curricular activity.

Ralph E. Doherty has been substituting, as janitor, for Mr. Holmes, who is ill.

The four pianos in this building are to be tuned by the Parent-Teacher Association.

The school is grateful to Mrs. Perley Bicknell for two pictures, one of Wagner and the other of Handel, to be put in the music room.

A questionnaire regarding extra-curricular activities has been filled out by all pupils this week.

Mrs. Carrie Burpee Shaw has presented the music department with books and musical equipment which will be put to good use.

A victrola has been loaned by Mrs. Esther Rogers, music supervisor, to the typewriting classes who have 12 new rhythm records.

At the Junior High assembly held Wednesday morning, Christmas carols were sung by the assemblage with Miss Bird at the piano.

Folders on the fundamentals of business letter writing, bringing out the different accepted forms have been received by the members of the typewriting classes, with the compliments of Bryant and Stratton Commercial School of Boston.

A debating club, sponsored by Miss Stahl, has been organized with the following officers: president, Doris Borgerson; vice president, Inez Bowley; secretary, Patricia Hall. Members are working on the question: Resolved, that all electric utilities should be governmentally owned and operated. The club plans to participate in practice tournaments which will be held in either Bangor or Brewer in February. The Bates League debates will be held in March. Members of the club include Doris Borgerson, Ethel Hayes, Gordon Richardson, Carl Libby, Inez Bowley, Patricia Hall, Harold Dondis, Frank Steves, Betty Beach, Jessie Olds, Albert Pease, Perry Howard, and Earl Connor. Edward Hayes, past graduate and a veteran debater, is assisting Miss Stahl.

The weekly meeting of Troop 203 was held Wednesday evening. Games were played before the meeting and at the first call, the patrols met in their separate rooms, then all marched to the gym for the opening ceremony. At this meeting Edward Law and Richard Mitchell were voted into the troop. At this first Court of Honor, second-class pins were awarded by Mr. Fervantler, with a word to each recruit, to Richard Brown, Robert Brown, Almon Young, Maynard Green, Clarence Butler, and Donald Borgerson.

Virginia Wood has brought into Miss Tower's Commercial Geography class some interesting old photographs of granite cutting in Vinalhaven, North Jay, and Hall Quarry and Somes Sound. These pictures were taken in the good old days of the Bowdoin Granite Company, and proved interesting to the class in connection with its study of minerals.

Miss Stahl's sophomore English class, in connection with its work in written composition, has passed in notebooks relating to Maine. Especially fine ones were made by Maxine Perry, Priscilla Staples, Dorothy Howard, and Paul Horeysek.

At the Christmas Tea to be held in the domestic science rooms Thursday, June Johnson and Barbara Bodman will be hostesses. Mary Cross will pour, Helvi Laitinen and Dorothy Black will be waitresses, and Beverly Bowden, Ethelyn Harvey, Alice Kent and Naomi Richards will be on duty in the kitchen.

Awards have been made this week in Mrs. Spear's beginner's typewriting class. Dorothy Sherman, Louise Waldron, Marion Ludwick and Virginia S. Rackliff have received

SOUTHERN CRUISE

The Southern Winter Cruise Contest is taking on all the aspects of a battle to the finish. Positions change rapidly, yesterday's leaders may be in the cellar today, or yesterday's tailenders may leap into the lead. Just this thing happened over the weekend with Arlene Havener rocketing from fourth into first place with a thin lead over Edna Gregory who is in second berth. Vivian Mullen rides in third place with Francis Havener Jr., Saturday's leader, in fourth.

Double votes, triple votes, special prizes. It is enough to make one's head whirl to listen to all the rumors and offers that the merchants are making for the contestants. See the contest advertising for particulars.

The standing to noon of December 14th is as follows:

Arlene Havener	21,132
Edna Gregory	21,054
Vivian Mullen	19,896
Francis Havener Jr.	19,670
Charles Mitchell	11,082
Leon White Jr.	7,289
Daisy Gray	5,120
Vera Ames	4,656
Carrie Breen	4,420
Ellen Anderson	3,759
William Cross	3,171
Clayton McMahon	1,773
Vivian Foster	1,758

A LOVING TRIBUTE

To the Memory of the Late Capt. Henry R. Huntley, Mourned By All

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

In tribute to the late Capt. Henry R. Huntley, whose death is deeply mourned by all patriotic bodies, I wish to mention the fidelity of his character which in home life gave outlet in faithfulness and devotion to his immediate household circle. Paternal love and care were lavished not only on his own eight children but a granddaughter, Mrs. Jannette Molway of Staten Island, and great-granddaughter, Mrs. Julia Sidelinger of Long Beach, Calif., also knew the wealth of kindness which was the very keystone of Capt. Huntley's nature.

Among those who solicitously attended him in his closing days was a granddaughter, Elizabeth Wallis, to whom the captain had always been a figure of pride. His great-granddaughters, Norma and Martha Seavey, also idealized this valiant veteran and with them he ranked foremost in consideration.

Four daughters survive Capt. Huntley. Mrs. Grace Lewis and Mrs. Eliza Phummer of Rockland, Mrs. Lula McCrea of Payson, Ill., and Mrs. Linda Hanners of Brooklyn, N. Y.; also 18 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren of whom he was proudly fond, having referred to them often in tender vein.

Impressive funeral services with G.A.R. ritual were conducted by the Sons of Union Veterans at the Methodist Church, Rev. Charles E. Brooks officiating. A profuse display of gorgeous flowers bespoke the widespread affection and esteem which this noble character had inspired.

Mrs. Stella McCrea at the organ offered comfort as she played the old hymns which had been loved and sung, even in hours of suffering, by Capt. Huntley, with his family grouped at his side. Mrs. Ida Huntley and Mrs. Gladys Heistad sang, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Lead Kindly Light," adding beauty and reverence to the services. Mrs. Millie Thomas, assisted by Mrs. Caroline Stewart, had charge of the beautifully arranged flowers surrounding the flag-draped casket.

Bearers, chosen from the patriotic orders, represented those sacred principals for which the venerable soldier had stood these many years—fraternity, charity and loyalty. For these ideals he remained firmly endeared in memory as his remains were borne to Sea View cemetery by George Stewart, Walter Weeks, Augustus Huntley, Milton Griffin, Oliver Hamlin and John Williams.

For just a while the shadows may veil the stars of blue. For just a while the clouds of gray may hide the sun from view. But may God in His loving grace, And tenderness, impart New faith and comfort to replace The shadows in the heart.

EGG SITUATION CONFUSING

Small Size In Demand To Take the Place Of Storage Eggs

The market review of the Maine Department of Agriculture reported Thursday, "there are no fresh western eggs in the Portland market," adding the "egg situation seems confusing."

"There is almost no spread in price between storage and native fresh eggs," the review said, "and plainly there is something out of line." Fancy large native eggs were reported lower in price, "while storage, which show signs of age, are higher."

The review said smallsize eggs were in demand to take the place of storage goods.

"Most large handlers," the review said, "believe that high class fresh eggs are too low and will be due for an advance later."

Lamb prices were reported "very low," with veal much higher, beef firm, and poultry low.

"Good quality onions have scored an advance in quotations," the review reported.
